SUGGESTED RESOURCES
In 1980, the U.S. Congress authorized the VVMF (the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund), to build a national memorial dedicated to all who served with the U.S. armed forces in the Vietnam War. Incorporated on April 27, 1979 by a group of veterans led by Jan C. Scruggs, this nonprofit organization sought a tangible symbol of recognition from the American people for those who served in this war.

The result was the Vietnam Veterans Memorial (commonly referred to as “The Wall”), which has become one of the most visited memorials in Washington, D.C. with an estimated 4.5 million annual visitors.

Since the dedication of The Wall, VVMF’s ongoing mission has been to preserve the legacy of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial, to promote healing, and to educate the public about the impact of the Vietnam War. Related Memorial Fund initiatives include educational programs for students and teachers, a traveling half-scale replica of The Wall that honors our nation’s veterans, and annual ceremonies at The Wall.

The latest VVMF endeavor is the campaign to build the Education Center at The Wall. The Education Center will provide a rich educational experience on the Vietnam era by showing the pictures and telling the stories of those who made the ultimate sacrifice in Vietnam, displaying some of the more than 400,000 items left at The Wall, and celebrating the values exhibited by America’s service members in all wars.

Through state of the art interactive exhibits and primary resource materials, visitors will be able to better understand the profound impact the Vietnam War had on their family members, their local communities, and their nation. Displays will include a wall of photographs, as well as personal stories about those who gave the ultimate sacrifice during the Vietnam War.

In support of these exhibits, the Memorial Fund has launched “Faces Never Forgotten,” a call for photos initiative (http://www.vvmf.org/faces-never-forgotten). The goal of the campaign is to collect a photograph of each of the more than 58,000 men and women whose names are inscribed on The Wall. These photos are displayed on the Wall of Faces website (http://www.vvmf.org/Wall-of-Faces/) and will be featured in the Education Center at The Wall.
Dear Educator:

More than 30 years ago the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund began its mission to build a memorial to the more than 58,000 brave men and women who gave their lives in service to our country during the Vietnam War. It was a memorial, built by the American people, not to memorialize the war but to ensure that the names of those who made the ultimate sacrifice would never be lost to history.

But a name can only tell you so much.

The majority of the visitors today to the Vietnam Veterans Memorial were not even alive when the memorial was being built, let alone alive during the Vietnam War. These children only understand that each name on The Wall is a person who lost their life in Vietnam; but without the proper resources, their knowledge is often limited to brief accounts in history textbooks, or becomes dressed in the sensationalism of Hollywood.

The Vietnam War was a difficult time for the men and women who didn’t watch it on the evening news but rather lived it. Controversy, shame, anger, depression often permeated the ranks of the returning soldiers and when they took off their uniform upon returning home, many of them simply shoved everything into the back of a closet or in an attic footlocker, some even refusing to acknowledge any of it.

The Wall, I believe, helped a great many veterans realize that they were no different than any other soldiers who came before them. It encouraged them to open up to their families, their friends, to their communities and to be proud of their service.

I had the privilege of meeting Frank Buckles, who, at the time was the last surviving American veteran of World War I. It’s a profound experience, thinking about what he had seen and what he had experienced in his more than 100 years on this Earth. What will happen when there no more veterans of the Second World War? Korea? Vietnam?

A major goal of the Hometown Heroes Service Learning Project is to collect photos and stories of those veterans whose names are on The Wall and those who returned home from the Vietnam War. Students will have an opportunity to learn about local veterans who served and sacrificed during the Vietnam War, as well as other military conflicts in our nation’s history. They will hear personal stories from veterans and their loved ones; and they will have an opportunity to plan a commemoration to honor their Hometown Heroes. Through this project, history will be given a human face.

This is why the Hometown Heroes Service Learning Project is so important. Please help us connect a story and a face with every name on The Wall and preserve the stories of those who came home.

JAN C. SCRUGGS
FOUNDER AND PRESIDENT
VIETNAM VETERANS MEMORIAL FUND
HOMETOWN HEROES
SERVICE LEARNING PROJECT OVERVIEW

After the September 2009 launch of the Faces Never Forgotten call for photos, VVMF engaged the Veterans History Project of the Library of Congress in creating the Hometown Heroes Service Learning Project. The goal of the project was to collect photos and stories of those on The Wall and those who returned. This unique extracurricular project was originally developed by Mrs. Cindy Gallaway, a teacher at Lewiston Middle School in Lewiston, Michigan, to encourage her students to find information about their Hometown Hero, Michael Jonas Pynnonen. This soldier’s story was submitted for publication to the VVMF by students in Mrs. Gallaway’s class.

http://www.vvmf.org/hometown-heroes-essay

VVMF adapted Mrs. Gallaway’s lesson plan and expanded it with the help of The History Channel and the Veterans History Project to include more personal stories of those who served, as well as a lesson plan sharing ways to honor local veterans. In 2013, the Hometown Heroes Service Learning Project was revised and updated by Ms. Sharon Deane, VVMF Director of Education, and Ms. Lindy Poling, a retired history teacher who has worked with VVMF Educational Programs since 1999. The new graphic design and layout is credited to Adam Arbogast.

THE HOMETOWN HEROES SERVICE LEARNING PROJECT INCLUDES FOUR MAJOR LESSON PLANS: *

A. Remembering Those Who Sacrificed encourages students to learn more about local veterans whose names are on The Wall by researching their biographical information, gathering photos, and identifying them by hometown or locality.

B. Preserving Veterans’ Personal Stories encourages students to preserve the oral histories of local veterans who served in all of our nation’s military conflicts through research and personal interviews.

C. Commemorating Our Veterans encourages students to volunteer in their community or plan a ceremony honoring local veterans to coincide with Memorial Day or Veterans Day.

D. Understanding Healing Through Memorials encourages teachers and students to take a field trip to The Wall in Washington, D.C., visit The Wall That Heals (a traveling half-scale replica of The Wall), or visit a local war memorial.

*Lesson plans align with Common Core Standards Initiative, including the College and Career readiness Standards (CCRA) and the National Learning Standards.
Lesson Plan A:
Remembering Those Who Sacrificed During the Vietnam War

Objective:
Students will identify and honor local veterans who sacrificed their lives for their country during the Vietnam War and preserve their biographies for future generations.

Skills Acquired:
History/Social Studies – Students will be able to describe the historical, political, and cultural influences of the historical time period during which the veteran served. The scale of this focus can be worldwide, nationwide, statewide or local. (NSS-USH.5-12.9) CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.6-8.7, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.6-8.9, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.11-12.7-9

English Language Arts – Students will be able to write a biographical profile of the service member that demonstrates the ability to use a variety of resources to gather and synthesize relevant information and to create and communicate knowledge. (NL-ENG.K-12.8)

Language – CCSS.ELA-Literacy.L.8.3, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.L.11-12.6

Writing – CCSS.ELA-Literacy.WHST.6-8.2/2d, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.WHST.6-8.4

Learning Strategies:
• Students will identify service members from their hometown, city, county, or state whose names are on The Wall by visiting this website: http://www.vvmf.org/Wall-of-Faces/. To find the names of Hometown Heroes on The Wall from specific communities, click on Advanced Search and type in: City/County and State.
• Students will brainstorm how to obtain information about these veterans.
• Students will select veterans to study and honor. They may work individually or in groups.
• Students will use local library (school and town), local historical society archives, and newspaper resources to research information about selected veterans.
LESSON PLAN A:

• Students will interview family and/or friends of these veterans (if possible) who sacrificed their lives for their country during the Vietnam era.

• Students will present their biographical research to other class members and those who were interviewed, as well as to the local library, historical society, or local blogs.

• Students will submit photos and research to the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund. The instructions on how to submit are located at http://www.vvmf.org/how-to-submit. Student work can be submitted to the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund by contacting education@vvmf.org.

Special note: Regardless of whether or not the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund has a photo of the individual already, we encourage you to submit additional photos anyway. The Memorial Fund is trying to collect as many photos of each individual as possible.

EVALUATION:

• Did the student utilize a variety of resources in developing a biographical profile?

• Did the student’s biographical profile of the veteran describe any of the historical, political, cultural influences of the time period?

• Did the student produce clear and coherent writing that met the requirements of the assignment?

• Did the student present clear and coherent verbal, written and visual information to classmates and interviewees?
LESSON PLAN B:
PRESERVING VETERANS' PERSONAL STORIES

OBJECTIVE:
Students will identify and honor local veterans who served in our nation’s military conflicts and preserve their biographies and personal stories for future generations.

SKILLS ACQUIRED:

History/Social Studies – Students will be able to describe the important historical, political, and cultural influences of the historical time period during which the veteran served. The scale of this focus can be worldwide, nationwide, statewide or local. (NSS-USH.5-12.9) CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.6-8.7, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.6-8.9, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH 11-12.7

English Language Arts – Students will be able to write a biographical profile of the service member that demonstrates the ability to use a variety of resources to gather and synthesize relevant information and to create and communicate knowledge. (NL-ENG.K-12.8) CCSS.ELA-Literacy.CCRA.R.8

Writing – CCSS.ELA-Literacy.W.6, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.W.7-9, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.CCRA.W.1

Speaking and Listening – CCSS.ELA-Literacy.SL.11-12.5, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.CCRA.SL.1, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.CCRA.SL.3

LEARNING STRATEGIES:

• Students will brainstorm creative methods to identify military veterans (living or deceased) who are from their community.

As a practice activity before interviewing a veteran, students may wish to interview someone who lived through the Vietnam era but did not serve in the Vietnam War. Grandparents, neighbors, teachers, and other might serve as excellent interviewees. Refer to interviewing guide: http://www.vvmf.org/interview-guide

• Students will identify individuals they know who are currently serving or have served in the military, noting the time period, branch of service, and their own relationships to those individuals.

• Students will select veterans and/or active service members to research and interview. Students may do individual research or work in pairs.
LESSON PLAN B:
PRESEVING VETERANS' PERSONAL STORIES

• Students will use local Veterans organizations, such as the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) and the American Legion, and other community resources (i.e. local military bases) to research information about selected veterans and service members.

• Students will interview selected veterans, active service members, and others using the following resources from the Veterans History Project as guidelines. Note: Educators may wish to modify these guidelines depending on students’ grade level and specific assignment.

  Additional sample questions that might be used for interviewing a Vietnam veteran can be found here: http://www.vvmf.org/sample-questions

• Students will ask the selected veteran, service member, and/or family or friends if photos can be shared with their class and the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund.

• Each student will write a biography and/or a reflective essay about his/her selected veteran or service member, using interview findings and supplemental research materials.

• Each student will write a thank you letter to his/her interviewee(s).

• Students will present their findings to fellow class members.

• Students will submit and/or present this information to the interviewee(s), the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund, local veterans’ organizations, a local historical society, and/or the Veterans History Project. Student work can be submitted to the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund by contacting: education@vvmf.org.

EVALUATION:

• Did the student use a variety of community resources in developing the biographical profile?

• Did the student use appropriate guidelines for his/her interview?

• Did the student’s biographical profile and/or reflective essay describe any of the historical, political, and cultural influences of the time period?

• Did the student produce clear and coherent writing that met the requirements of the assignment?

• Did the student present clear and coherent verbal, written and visual information to classmates and interviewees?
ABOUT THE VETERANS HISTORY PROJECT (VHP):

The United States Congress created the Veterans History Project (VHP) in 2000 as part of the American Folklife Center at the Library of Congress. The Mission of the Veterans History Project is to collect, preserve, and make accessible the personal accounts of American war veterans so that future generations may hear directly from veterans and better understand the realities of war.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE IN THE VETERANS HISTORY PROJECT:

1. Visit http://www.loc.gov/vets to view the 15-minute VHP Field Kit Companion Video and then download a Field Kit. The Field Kit gives you guidelines for conducting interviews and explains what the Veterans History Project does and doesn’t accept. If you do not have internet access, call the toll-free message line at 1-888-371-5848 to request a Field Kit.

2. Record a veteran’s story using an audio or video recorder; assist in collecting original photographs, letters, diaries, maps, etc.; and/or help write a memoir.

3. Complete the required and appropriate forms (including biographical data, audio and video log, and release forms) at www.loc.gov/vets or from the Field Kit. Assemble the forms and the items you are submitting.

4. VHP only accepts original materials. Please make copies of all materials you wish to keep for yourself. Please provide the veterans with a copy of the interview. VHP does not have the resources to provide copies of any donated materials. Although copyright and intellectual property rights remain with the veteran or their next of kin, everything submitted to VHP will become Property of the Library of Congress and cannot be returned.

Lesson Plan C: Commemorating Our Veterans

Objective:
Students will develop an understanding and appreciation of their own Hometown Heroes through volunteering in their community or planning a ceremony honoring local veterans to coincide with Memorial Day or Veterans Day.

Skills Acquired:
- History/Social Studies – Students will demonstrate their knowledge of citizenship by exploring the roles of a citizen; rights, responsibilities, and taking part in civic life and integrating visual information with other information in print and digital texts. (NSS-C.5-8.5) CCSS ELA-Literacy.RH.6-8.7, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RST.6-8.9

- English Language Arts – Students will develop a range of broadly useful oral communication and interpersonal skills. Students will work together, express and listen carefully to ideas, integrate information from oral, visual, quantitative, and media sources, and adapt speech to context and task. (NL-ENG.K-12.4) CCSS.ELA-Literacy.CCRA.R.8

- Writing – CCSS ELA-Literacy.WHST.6-8.2/2f, CCSS ELA-Literacy.WHST.6-8.4/5, CCSS ELA-Literacy.WHST.9.10.4/5, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.CCRA.W.1

- Speaking and Listening – CCSS.ELA-Literacy.SL.6, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.SL.11-12.1, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.CCRA.SL.1, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.CCRA.SL.3

- Science & Technical Subjects – CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RST.6-8.7

Learning Strategies:
- Students will call a local veterans organization or VA hospital to arrange a visit with a veteran or attend a meeting at a service organization.

- Students will develop a website dedicated to their hometown hero or veterans who served from their school community, or use tools like HistoryPin to share their hero’s story with the public. Look up Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund on HistoryPin: http://www.historypin.com

- Students will plan a commemorative event honoring local veterans close to Memorial Day or Veterans Day. These might include a school assembly or ceremony, a reception, and/or a special meal.

- Students will use the HISTORY(R)'s “Take a Veteran to School Day” Guide to plan and execute this event.

- Students will review the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund’s In Memory Program and Ceremony: http://www.vvmf.org/InMemoryProgram

- Students will research the conditions that continue to impact Vietnam veterans and integrate into the commemorative event a way to address and honor those challenges that some Vietnam veterans continue to face.
POST EVENT ACTIVITIES:

- Each student will send a 1-2 page thank you letter to the honoree(s).
- As an extra activity, some students may wish to write articles for a classroom newsletter, the school newspaper, PTA Newsletter, and local newspaper regarding their special Memorial Day or Veterans Day Commemorative Event.

EVALUATION:

- Did the student use appropriate “Take a Veteran to School Day” Guidelines in planning and executing the commemorative ceremony?
- Did the student work well with other students in planning and executing this event?
- Did the student demonstrate appropriate oral communication and interpersonal skills?
- Did the student produce clear and coherent writing that was appropriate to the purpose of the assignment?
- Did the student’s thank you letter demonstrate a respectful understanding and appreciation of their Hometown Hero’s (or Heroes’) contributions to their community and nation?

“TAKE A VETERAN TO SCHOOL” WEBSITE

This detailed “How-To” guide gives suggestions for organizing a “Take a Veteran to School Day” event. It provides a sample agenda, additional activities and projects, and many excellent web resources. On this site, you will also find guidelines for interviewing veterans.

Note: Educators may wish to modify these guidelines depending on students’ grade level and specific assignment.
OBJECTIVE:

Students will develop an understanding and appreciation of the ways memorials can be used to promote healing by taking a field trip to The Wall in Washington, DC, visiting The Wall That Heals (a traveling half-scale replica of The Wall), or visiting a local war memorial.

SKILLS ACQUIRED:

History/Social Studies – Students will be able to describe the economic, social, political, and cultural influences of the historical time period during which the veteran served. The scale of this focus can be worldwide, nationwide, statewide or local. (NSS-USH.5-12.9) CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RHCCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.6-8.7, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.6-8.9/9-10.7/11-12.7, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.RH.11-12.2/11-12.7

English Language Arts – Students will be able to use a variety of resources to gather and synthesize relevant information and to create and communicate knowledge. (NL-ENG.K-12.8) CCSS.ELA-Literacy.CCRA.R.8

Language – CCSS.ELA-Literacy.L.8.3

Writing – CCSS.ELA-Literacy.WHST.6-8.2a-f, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.WHST.6-8.2a, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.WHST.6-8.4, CCSS.ELA-WHST.6.8.4/8.5/8.6, CCSS.ELA-WHST.9-10.2a-2f, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.WHST.11-12.4/5, CCSS.ELA-Literacy.CCRA.W.1

LEARNING STRATEGIES:

- Students will reflect on the purpose and meaning behind a specific memorial, then create a project to express emotions about the memorial.

Recommended Activities:
Study Maya Lin’s design of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial or other memorial designs by using primary and secondary sources. Refer to the recommended books, websites, and films in this guide listed under Suggested Resources. Each student will complete one of the following activities: write a blog, a poem, or a song; or create a photo montage (e.g., photograph different memorials), a drawing or a video about the memorial. Students can visit The Wall and nearby memorials such as the Women’s Vietnam Memorial, Korean War Memorial, and World War II Memorial or local memorials for comparisons.

- Students will participate in a ceremony to honor and remember veterans.

Recommended Activities:
As a group, attend one of the six annual ceremonies at The Wall which take place on Memorial Day, Mother’s Day, Father’s Day, In Memory Day, Veterans Day, and/or Christmas Tree Ceremony at the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Washington, DC. Please check VVMF website for scheduled dates at http://www.vvmf.org/events. Students can lay a wreath in honor of their Hometown Hero(es) at The Wall, make a name rubbing or make an ornament in honor of their hero.

- Students will engage in social media activities to connect with veterans and discuss veterans’ issues.

Recommended Activities:
Refer to the recommended books, websites, and films in this guide listed under Suggested Resources. Under teacher guidance, students dialogue with veterans and other students on such topics as: the economic cost of war, the draft, military stereotypes, prisoners of war and missing in action (http://www.vvmf.org/hometown-heroes-resources), American society’s response to the Vietnam War, Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD), Agent Orange, homeless veterans, disabled veterans, women in the military, comparisons between past and current conflicts, and impact of war on families.

It is strongly recommended that students research the Vietnam era prior to engaging via social media. Students are encouraged to interact with VVMF through its social media channels:

1. The official VVMF blog, Your Stories Your Wall, shares veterans’ stories along with personal experiences from visitors at The Wall. Students can comment on posts at: http://vvmf.wordpress.com/

2. Students can connect with veterans and participate in conversations with VVMF on Twitter at https://twitter.com/VVMF

3. Students can explore VVMF’s In Memory program to search for individuals and post remembrances at: http://www.vvmf.org/honor-roll

- Students will research the topics of POWs and MIAs. Then, students will write government officials and/or the families of veterans (living or deceased) to promote understanding and healing in the veteran community.

Recommended Activities:
Referring to the recommended websites for government officials listed under the Suggested Resources, students can write their congressman/woman, senators, the president and vice president to request the release of current POWs and more information on MIAs. With teacher guidance, students can write a personal letter to the family of a current serviceman listed as MIA or write families of present-day active duty military personnel from their community or state to thank them for their service and sacrifice. Students may contact the Defense Prisoner of War/Missing Personnel Office at http://www.dtic.mil/dpmo/vietnam/reports/ to obtain a resource list of MIA families.

- Students will design a military memorial (e.g. for their community or state) based on the original Vietnam Veterans Memorial Design Competition criteria (http://www.vvmf.org/hometown-heroes-resources) which includes the following:
  1. Be reflective and contemplative in character
  2. Harmonize with its surroundings
  3. Display the names of all who died and remain missing (may or may not apply)
  4. Make no political statement about the war

Using a free downloadable version of Educators Google SketchUp, (http://www.sketchup.com/3Dfor/k12-education) students can work individually or in groups.

Students can post their memorial designs to VVMF’s Instagram by tagging their photos with @VNVeteransMemorial or to VVMF’s Facebook page at: https://www.facebook.com/VietnamVeteransMemorialFund

- Students can research the conditions that continue to impact Vietnam veterans (Agent Orange, PTSD, homelessness, etc) and choose to design a memorial that highlights the challenges of individuals that have died as a result of those conditions. Explore VVMF’s In Memory program for more information: http://www.vvmf.org/inmemoryprogram

EVALUATION:

- Did the student demonstrate appropriate oral and written communication, as well as interpersonal skills?
- Did the student produce clear and coherent writing that was appropriate to the purpose of the assignment?
- Did the student improve skills in historical research, and analysis of primary and secondary sources?
- Did the student become more observant, noticing and describing more details in an image?
- Did the student use the design criteria to produce a drawing and demonstrate an understanding of memorial?
- Did the student work well with other students during the course of their project?
- Did the student present clear and coherent verbal, written and visual information to classmates?
- Did the student improve his/her knowledge of and ability to think critically about memorials, display stronger historical empathy toward service and sacrifice, and develop higher tolerance?
- Did the student express an interest in visiting memorials or other such cultural institutions in the future?
